VANS SKATEBOARD

I have created this digital catalog with the hope that you might see the vision to possibly include these amazing wall sculptures in some of your stores. I've put quite a bit of time into this little presentation (as I have with my work)... but not as much time as I have put in my Vans.

I have been wearing Van sneakers since the late 1960's. Having grown up in southern California, I spent my young years wearing out the wheels on my skateboards (and the tread on my Vans). I was around for the entire development of California skateboard culture and Vans were always an indelible part of my life. I can still remember those tiny Vans stores dotted throughout the LA landscape. I was also painting my skateboards as far back as the early 70's and, as you can see here, I still do.
